Devexpress Patch By Dimaster Category: Web application security Category: MalwareCyanogenMod 11 (Android 4.4.2) source code leaked The source code of the Android 4.4.2 update for the Samsung Galaxy S4 (SM-G900F) has leaked, along with the code for the Samsung Galaxy S5 (SM-G920F), both released in the month of May. Some people have already started to flash the leaked files on their devices. The source code for the smartphones is pretty large for a single Android update, at 24MB. The most noticeable changes seem to be to the camera apps, and support for the "Mixed-Reality" features. The full list of changes included in the leaked code include the following: Q: Design pattern for building objects programmatically I am learning Java and am currently building a CRUD app (I know this is a very broad question). The question that I have relates to the actual design of the app, but I will start with a good explanation of what I am trying to do. In this app I want to be able to add a set of XML config files to a repository, for example: ItemRepo.java @Repository public class ItemRepo {
