Q: Upload file using HttpClient not working in ReactJs I'm trying to upload a file using HttpClient in a ReactJs app. When I send the request using Postman everything works, but I don't know what I'm doing wrong. My code is as follows:

const headers = new HttpHeaders().set("Content-Type", "multipart/form-data");
const options = { headers: headers, method: "POST", body:
`file=@${FileStorage.blob}`, }; return this.httpClient.post(this.API_URL + "upload_image", options).pipe(map(response => response.json()));

The following shows that the request is sent correctly. POST 200 OK 3 ms - - The response is the following: { "message": "You have not provided a file!" } I'm using Angular to generate the form: This is the way I got the API URL: export const API_URL = `A: You need to set the Content-Type property to multipart/form-data; otherwise your request body will be interpreted as a HTML form.

What's New In Xilisoft iPad Magic?

Do you love YouTube? It's a great source of entertainment, but can also be a heavy consumer of your data plan. This app for the iPad allows you to view your favorite videos directly on your mobile device, so that you can decide whether or not to watch them. Easy, fast and safe video playback The application is compatible with all devices that are compatible with the standard Android operating system. For this reason, it supports a wide variety of devices, including the HTC One, Google Nexus 4, the Samsung Galaxy Note and the Samsung Galaxy Tab. The interface is intuitive, allowing you to view videos in more detail and make them larger, if you wish. You can also adjust the video to be shown in portrait or landscape, depending on the device. The app also supports the video playback mode in the background. This way, you don't need to be actively watching the video to play it, making it perfect for watching on the go. The app is also able to quickly and safely record videos in HD quality. Back up content If you are an iPad user who loves to keep track of your favorite videos, this app is an excellent way to view and record them. It is also possible to get them onto your device, so that you could quickly find them in the future. All in all, this is one of the best apps available for iPad and Android devices, so if you have an Android device, check out the App Store and get the app in no time at all. Descripción: I have been using Dropbox as a back up tool for my data. But now I want something else. Something that is more secure and that won't let me down. So, I found Calamo. Calamo is a service that makes it possible to use

Dropbox as a secure back up tool. Why it's more secure? I will tell you that in a second. If you want to know more about this app, read this article to find out how it works. Why Calamo Calamo is a cloud-based backup service that offers 1 TB of free space. It also allows you to back up your entire device (and not only your home folder, as you can with Dropbox). Calamo is not a web-based service, but a downloadable application for Android and Apple devices. It allows you to easily save your data onto your own Dropbox, that you set up. Calamo also integrates with a Dropbox account in a way that is safe. You can download the Calamo app from the Google Play Store. You can also register an account through your Google account, so that your files can be easily found. Connecting Calamo to Dropbox Once you have installed the app on your device, Calamo will ask you whether or not you want to back up your files. You can accept or decline this decision. If you accept it, Calamo will
