A: Your problem is because you are giving your id the format "video/x-flv", which is not supported by online video providers like YouTube or Dailymotion. For Flash, use "application/x-shockwave-flash". This is the format supported by the likes of YouTube and Dailymotion. So, your code should be changed as follows. While the second one is served from Dailymotion's site, the code should work with no issue in the first. Q: Count users with the same role with Laravel I have this relation in my resource and I want to know how many users have the same role in my database. In my model I have this: public function role() { return

$this->belongSTo('\App\Models\Role', roleId'); } I'm not sure if you need more information but I need to know how many people with the same role have a registration year that is the same as theirs and for that I do this: public function statusYear() { return $this->where('entry user', '=', $this->pivot->user_id)->where('entry_year', '=', $this->pivot->entry_year); } This gives me the'statusYear' from the users, but that is just the year and not the registration year. In another question it was asked to me how to do this and the answer was the same as here but it didn't work for me, the problem is this: public function statusYear() { return $this->where('entry_user', '=', $this->pivot->user_id)->where('entry_user', '=', $this->pivot->entry_year).>count('id'); } I also tried to change it to like this:
