Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a plasma display panel and a production method of a plasma display panel. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, remarkable progress has been made in the development of plasma display panels (PDP). A PDP can be made flat, large in screen size, and has a high degree of freedom with respect to the shape of its screen surface, so that it is expected to be utilized as an alternative display medium for a cathode ray tube (CRT). In order to manufacture a PDP for displaying a dynamic image, it is necessary to realize a discharge in an address period, a sustain period and a reset period. In the manufacture of an AC-PDP, it is necessary to realize a discharge by providing a voltage pulse to a main wall and a sub-wall. A variety of methods for producing a discharge are used, for example, (1) the so-called passive matrix method for applying discharge by causing a discharge due to wall charges created by applying a voltage to an X electrode (and a Y electrode) and a dielectric material, or (2) the so-called active matrix method for driving a display by applying a voltage to a discharge cell in which wall charges are created by applying a voltage to the X electrode and the Y electrode and using a light emitting diode (LED) serving as a light-emitting device. A discharge cell can be regarded as a pixel. As described above, a variety of types of PDP exist. The plasma display panel has the following advantages: (1) it is possible to employ a memory function, and (2) a higher
