I'm trying to run a SQL query that, on a given table, will group the entries by class, then count how many times the group has occurred. I've tried grouping the columns I need to group by, and even used count(*) with no luck. The following is my current attempt at trying to create a query that will group the users by class, and count the number of matching entries within the group. public IQueryable GetAttendanceByClass(IQueryable users) { return (from user in users group user by user.class
